

Summer Internship Information

Recognizing the importance of internships to professional development, the John W. Gallivan Program in Journalism, Ethics & Democracy financially sponsors summer intern experiences at several news organizations throughout the country. Students apply for the internships (as they would for any job), and the news outlets conduct the interviewing/screening and make the hiring decisions.

The details of each Gallivan-sponsored internship can be found below. Note the deadlines for each program. Pay levels are approximate and subject to change. The standard length of each internship is between 10 and 12 weeks. In the case of all newspapers below, please be sure to clearly identify yourself as a candidate for the "Notre Dame Intern Program."

The South Bend Tribune and www.southbendtribune.com South Bend, IN

The Tribune will offer a full-time paid summer 2018 reporting internship to one student in Notre Dame's Gallivan Program in Journalism, Ethics & Democracy. The internship will provide opportunities for multi-media work, as well. Applicants should have some college-level journalism experience and be considering a possible career in the news media. The Tribune summer internship is 11 weeks. Salary is $425 per week. Tribune interns are treated as professionals. They receive the same types of assignments and face the same deadline pressures as the regular news staff. Notre Dame's JED program funds one summer internship annually as part of a longstanding partnership with The Tribune. The South Bend Tribune is a daily AM paper and news website serving north central Indiana and southwestern Michigan.

To apply, mail or email a cover letter, resume and five to ten examples of your journalism work by Dec. 1, 2017, to: Margaret Fosmoe, Internship Coordinator, South Bend Tribune 225 W. Colfax Ave. South Bend, IN 46626 mfosmoe@sbtinfo.com 574-235-6329

The Concord Monitor

Concord, NH

The Monitor, circulation 15,000, is one of the most prestigious small newspapers in the country. It is a major feeder paper for The Boston Globe, The Washington Post and others. In the past few years, four Gallivan alums, three of whom had Monitor internships, were hired full-time at the paper. Internship is for 10 weeks. Pay: $550 weekly.

A cover letter and clips should be sent by Dec.1, 2017, to:

Concord Monitor Editor

Steve Leone

sleone@cmonitor.com

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

Pittsburgh, PA

The Post-Gazette is under the leadership of Executive Editor David Shribman, a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and a good friend to Notre Dame. The Post-Gazette has hired four Gallivan Program students in the past few years.

Pay: $530 weekly. By Dec. 16, 2017, please apply at this link:

<http://old.post-gazette.com/aboutpg/internships.asp>

The Blade

Toledo, OH

The Blade is also owned by Block Communications Inc., and is a sister paper to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. The deadline to apply is Dec. 1, 2017. It has a daily circulation of about 85,000 and a Sunday circulation of about 100,000. It won a Pulitzer Prize for investigative reporting in 2004 and was a finalist in the same category in 2006. Interns will have the opportunity to be published daily and write a wide variety of news stories, as Blade interns cover for vacationing reporters. Pay: $375 weekly. Please send a cover letter, resume and at least five writing samples to:

The Blade

Attn: Executive Editor Kurt Franck

541 North Superior Street

Toledo, OH 43660

Los Angeles Times

Los Angeles, CA

Anyone interested in the Notre Dame-sponsored internship for a reporting internship at the Los Angeles Times should email Prof. Rich Jones at richard.jones@nd.edu for further information. The deadline for applying is Dec. 1, 2017. This internship provides a stipend of $6,000 to the student selected.

CBS News, New York or Washington, D.C.

One applicant will be chosen to work in the News Division of CBS during the summer of 2018 with a stipend of $5,500 supplied by the University. The intern will be placed at the CBS Evening News, 60 Minutes, 48 Hours or one of the other programs produced by the network. Other applicants for this internship will be put into the general pool considered by CBS for internships that are paid an hourly rate. In describing generally the duties of interns for all CBS programs, the network says: Interns can expect to log tapes, coordinate script, research stories, conduct preliminary interviews, assist during shoots, select footage, perform light clerical duties and assist staff members.

Applicants must follow CBS procedures, which can be found here:

<http://www.cbsnews.com/news/cbs-news-internship-program/>

Prof. Jones will collect all the applications by Dec. 1, 2017, and forward them to New York for a decision.

Tampa Bay Times

Tampa Bay, FL

Florida's largest and best newspaper, with twelve Pulitzer Prizes, is looking for energetic, talented young people for internships in its News department. Summer internships are 10-12 weeks long, from mid-May to mid-August. Pay is $450 per week. You will be considered a full staff member and work alongside colleagues who will serve as mentors. The internship program is designed to offer hands-on experience to add to your academic credentials. Returning full time undergraduates are eligible to apply for an Intern Scholarship worth up to $3,500.

By Dec. 1, send a cover letter, resume and 4 clips, using links or attachments that show the range of your work to rleblanc@tampabay.com.

In the subject line of the email, please indicate "Notre Dame" and "reporting internship." Links should be easily accessible (no paywalls, for instance) and easily printable. And once printable, are clean and readable.

When you do apply for the Tampa Bay Times, please notify Mary Jo Young, Administrative Assistant – Gallivan Program myoung8@nd.edu.

Sinclair – Notre Dame Washington, D.C., Internship

Sinclair Broadcast Group's Washington, D.C., bureau seeks interns who are pursuing careers as visual storytellers who have a dedication to accountability journalism.

Interns may have the opportunity to assist reporters in all aspects of the newsgathering process, including conducting interviews, doing research, gathering b-roll, designing graphics and basic producing. There is also the possibility of writing news scripts, pitching story ideas and an opportunity to learn basic on-air techniques from reporters.

Our bureau is adjacent to Capitol Hill. This is an outstanding opportunity for news interns to learn about the legislative process as well.

Qualified candidates will be pursuing careers as producers, reporters, digital journalists or videographers. We seek highly motivated, serious applicants who are dedicated to careers in the television news industry.

Please submit a resume, cover letter and any work samples (demo reel of campus broadcast or commercial media is acceptable), to: newsrecruiter@sbgvtv.com.

The stipend is $5,000 and the application deadline is Dec. 1, 2017.